(referred to as “RCG”) maintains physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to protect its clients’ nonpublic personal information (“information”). Through this policy and its underlying procedures, RCG attempts to secure the confidentiality of customer records and information and protect against anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of customer records and information.

It is the policy of RCG to restrict access to all current and former clients’ information (i.e., information and records pertaining to personal background, investment objectives, financial situation, tax information/returns, investment holdings, account numbers, account balances, etc.) to those employees and affiliated/nonaffiliated entities who need to know that information in order to provide products or services to the client. The disclosure of information contained in any document completed by the client for processing and/or transmittal by RCG in order to facilitate the commencement/continuation/termination of a business relationship between the client and a nonaffiliated third party service provider (i.e., broker-dealer, investment adviser, account custodian, insurance company, etc.), including information contained in any document completed and/or executed by the client for RCG (i.e., advisory agreement, client information form, etc.), shall be deemed as having been automatically authorized by the client with respect to the corresponding nonaffiliated third party service provider.

RCG permits only authorized employees and affiliates who have signed a copy of RCG’s Privacy Policy to have access to client information. Employees violating RCG’s Privacy Policy will be subject to RCG’s disciplinary process. Additionally, whenever RCG hires other organizations to provide services to RCG’s clients, RCG will require them to sign confidentiality agreements and/or the Privacy Policy.
